SLEUTH ARMY CONTINUES SEARCH Landslide Buries Workmen In Power Construction Camp ARBUCKLE SPEEDER IS RELEASED

SCHUTZ HINTS PROSECUTION FOR 'BEATING'

Accused Man Pays Fine for Speed And Is Released After Hearing

FEELING INTENSE OVER CASE

Impression Given That Davis, Not Schutz, Was Man Being Tried

Ruling that not sufficient evidence had been presented by the prosecution to hold over the defendant for trial before the superior court of Alameda county, Judge John H. Paul of Albany yesterday dismissed the charge of resisting an officer against Fred Schutz, wealthy Arbutle farmer.

PAYS SPECIAL FINE
Schutz withdrew his plea of not guilty to a charge of speeding 36 miles an hour through the 15-mile safety zone at Albany, and was fined $16 by Judge Paul.

PROSECUTION HINTED
As a result of the dismissal of the case yesterday, the district attorney's office of Contra Costa county may take action upon Schutz's recent complaint to Deputy District Attorney Delap, that Officer Davis had administered him a severe beating when placing him under arrest, it was rumored last night. The alleged beating took place in Contra Costa county, several hundred feet this side of the county line.

INTEREST RAN HIGH
The preliminary hearing just concluded was closely watched by residents of both Contra Costa and Alameda counties, so wide-spread was interest in the case. Schutz was arrested by Davis on July 24, the day the new law went into effect on more giving officers of the law the right to carry billy clubs.

ALLEGED BEATING
Davis is alleged to have drawn his club and beat the Arbutle man about the head and body before taking him to the city jail and placing charges against him of speeding and resisting an officer.

OFFICER'S SIDE
Davis charged Schutz with having kicked him repeatedly when he attempted to place him under arrest, while the defendant, at counter testimony during the hearing denied having made any effort to hit the speed cop.

Attorneys Myron Harris and Leo Sullivan represented Schutz in his fight against the charge of resisting an officer. Deputy District Attorney James Walsh handled the case for the people.

RICHMOND NIGHT AT DIAMOND JUBILEE IS HILARIOUS EVENT

With more festival spirit and greater carnival crowds than on the opening night, Richmond night at the Pinole Diamond Jubilee proved a night of real revelry.

TOWN JAMMED
Several thousand joy seekers thronged the jubilee center and crowded the little ancient town to capacity. Heading the events of the evening came the motor parade, starting from the booth of the Richmond Merchants' association.

SCOUTS IN LIGHT
Boy Scouts shared honors of the night with the City of Richmond and put on a series of exercises showing the scope and nature of their training. Band music, amusements in the zone, distribution of favors from Richmond merchants, reception to Queen Betty Roundtree by Mayor E. M. Downer, and distribution of prizes were among the high lights of the evening.

BEAUTIFUL BOOTH
Admiring remarks showing that many of the visitors thought the booth of the Richmond Merchants' association the prettiest one there, were heard in profusion.

The booth was tastefully decorated, hospitality being the theme. The very appearance of the booth was an invitation to "come in and rest," and then the word was passed to "Come to Richmond" where more hospitality awaits the visitors.

DESCRIPTION
Fumed oak furniture furnished by the Richmond Furniture company and the H. L. Schrader company was not only attractive but comfortable for the tired carnival throng. Gracefully draped bunting representing the carnival colors softened the effect, and red, yellow and green dahlias gave a decidedly distinctive finishing touch to the decorations. The dahlias were donated to the association by Mrs. Grinsby of the Home Furniture company.

MEXICAN GIVEN BOND LIBERTY

Hearing of Alleged Abductor Set For Next Tuesday—Bond Is $250

At the preliminary hearing of Ramundo Jaramillo, of the Richmond Mexican colony, in the Justice Court yesterday, Justice of the Peace John Roth set the trial for next Tuesday. Jaramillo was released upon posting $250 bond.

Jaramillo was arrested on Thursday night by local police on a charge of child stealing preferred by Trinidad Parra, brother of 14 year old Virginia Parra, also a Mexican.

The girl said she was 18 years of age, but her parents declare she is only 14. A receipt for obtaining a marriage license was exhibited to police by Jaramillo.

ROOMS PACKED AT HIGH SCHOOL

School Authorities to Discuss Measures for Expanding Institution

Overcrowded conditions in Richmond high school has caused the citizens of the district to take active steps in the enlargement of the school facilities. For the purpose of discussing ways and means of overcoming the present conditions, a meeting has been called for Thursday morning at 10 o'clock at Lincoln auditorium.

Residents of the district, including Richmond, San Pablo, Giant, Pinole, Hercules, Orinda Park and Sheldon will be present as well as heads of various civic groups. Plans for a new building that have long been under consideration will be taken up.

MURDER CLUES BELIEVED SET TO LURE COPS

Thorough investigation of the finding of bloody sheets and clothing in a gulch near Kozy Kove by Mrs. Mollie Tanbrook resulted in the decision at police headquarters last night that the sheets had nothing whatever to do with the tulle pond murder mystery.

There has been not a whit of evidence gathered pointing to any linking of the two cases. The conclusion regarding the discovery in the gulch is that it was part of a bundle of rubbish cast from an automobile and intended to be burned.

The police believe that unraveling of the mystery will show the crime center to be San Francisco, and not any city in the Eastbay region. Hurling the fragments into the tulle swamp is believed to be a lure, taking the hunt from the territory where the guiding clues are to be found. If the sheets have any connection, the officers believe it is only as a lure away from the real scene of the crime.

Husband Follows Wife In Death After Lapse Of Month

Noriborn Noel, a resident of Richmond for many years and an employee of the Standard Oil company, passed away at his home, 161 Third street last night after an illness of some time.

He followed his wife, Mrs. Edith May Noel in death by one month.

He was the father of Dewey M. Noel, Merle K. Noel, Nadine K. Noel, Clifton L. Noel, and Grendine Noel all of Richmond.

Funeral arrangements, which are in the hands of Bert Curry, are pending.

MRS. LIVINGSTON DIES OF HEART TROUBLE

Wife of Police Sergeant Dies In Home on Fourteenth Street

Mrs. W. H. Livingston, wife of W. H. Livingston, sergeant of the Richmond Police department, passed away yesterday afternoon at her home, 325 Fourteenth street. Death came suddenly. Dr. St. John Hely, attending physician, attributed her demise to heart trouble.

The remains are at the Wilson and Kratzer funeral parlors. Arrangements for funeral services will be completed this morning.

Mrs. Livingston was 60 years of age and a resident of Richmond for 24 years. She was a native of California. Besides her husband she is survived by three sisters: Mrs. Earl E. Whitman, 231 Cottage avenue; Mrs. C. A. McKelvey, Berkeley; Mrs. F. L. Ross, Spokane, Washington; a brother, J. E. Tholsen, Mariposa; two nieces, Mrs. Aileen Clifford, 1027 Macdonald avenue, and Mrs. H. E. Dover, 2546 Clinton avenue.

Investigation as a matter of form will be made by the coroner's office. The date of the inquest has been set for next Tuesday.

Missing Cashier Short in Account

MARTINEZ, Aug. 28.—Bonding companies which guaranteed the proper conduct of the bank's affairs for Sebastian Tarantino are now searching for the missing cashier of the Bay Point branch of the First National Bank of Pittsburg in an effort to have him explain the reported cash shortage of about $2500 which are revealed following the examination of his accounts by the bank examiners.

It is the belief of the bank officials that Tarantino, if he were present, could explain the apparent shortage of about $1500 in the bank's cash, in addition to the $1000 check which he cashed in the Pittsburg bank on the day of his disappearance. Although it will be two weeks tomorrow since Tarantino disappeared no trace of him has been found and no clues revealed as to his whereabouts.

MURDER MYSTERY DEEPENS WHEN CLUES PROVE EMPTY

MOTHER OF SLAIN WOMAN BELIEVED TO KNOW MORE THAN SHE TELLS OFFICERS

Admittedly baffled, an army of officers and newspapermen last night continued to dig into the countless "clues" to the tulle swamp murder mystery, of which Mrs. Bessie Ferguson Loren was the victim.

NO SOLUTION YET
The sum total of yesterday's activities was zero, as far as solving any one of the questions,—who killed the Oakland woman? Where was the deed done? How was it done? When was she murdered? And what was the motive?

NO ARREST MADE
Deputy District Attorney T. H. Delap of Richmond last night admitted that after days of questioning persons known to be intimate with Mrs. Loren, no one had been implicated sufficiently to be held. He is not satisfied with the story of Gordon Rowe, San Francisco accountant, but no convincing evidence has been revealed against him.

TO QUESTION WOMEN
Chief hopes for revelations today, held both by Delap and Chief of police Dan Cox of Richmond, are pinned on further questioning of Mrs. W. T. Ferguson, mother of the murdered woman. They and the other probers of the tulle mystery are convinced that she knows more than she cares to tell.

STORY SEEMS QUEER
They do not intimate that she has any other than motherly reasons for wishing to keep any facts she may know in the dark. However, Chief Cox is particularly certain that Mrs. Ferguson can give more facts that will be enlightening, if they may not directly solve the murder mystery.

KNOW LITTLE OF DAUGHTER
Cox bases his belief on several instances in which Mrs. Ferguson's story has been disproved. She professed ignorance of any of the activities of her daughter involving several (Continued On Page Four)

AUBURN LANDSLIDE OF ROCK KILLS TWO; INJURES FOUR

AUBURN (Cal.), Aug. 28.—Two men were killed and four were badly injured, one possibly fatally, when they were crushed under a landslide of rock at noon today in a quarry at the Pacific Gas and Electric Company construction camp at Lake Fordyce, six miles north of Cisco, in Nevada county.

The slide of rock dislodged through some undetermined cause, occurred while a gang of laborers was at work at the bottom of the gravel pit, from which rock is being taken for use in the dam being erected on Lake Fordyce by the P. G. & E. to raise the water for hydro-electric power purposes.

Without any preliminary warning to the men below, a large section of the pit side gave way suddenly above their heads and a great mass of boulders, smaller rock and gravel crashed down the precipice, burying or partly burying the six laborers.

A rescue gang was organized and frantically began to dig away the debris. Reynolds and Rondi had been crushed to death and the other four were partly buried by the piled rock.

BAPTISTS SELL CHURCH BONDS

Bonds to the value of $4,252 were sold by members of the First Baptist church, meeting last night in Redmen's hall to raise funds for the erection of their new church building. The remaining bonds are expected to be sold within the next several weeks, it was announced.

Talks on the bond issue were made during the evening by Mrs. R. Doolley, R. H. Kinney, Watson Dimmock, Rev. C. R. G. Poole, Mrs. Peggy Lassiter and F. S. French.

A program given during the evening included a negro dialect reading by Mrs. F. S. French, and a vocal duet by Mr. and Mrs. F. S. French.

Dinner was served by a committee consisting of Mrs. W. W. Howell, Earl Howell, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. McCausland and Miss Cora English.

C. E. Parker, superintendent of the Sunday school, presided over the meeting.

Woman Held In Lunatic Asylum Is Author of Brilliant Fiction

(By Universal Service)
LONDON, Aug. 28.—A woman patient in a London lunatic asylum has written a number of brilliant stories which are shortly to be published. Reading them, one is struck by the cleverness and human insight.

The secret of the author's identity is not revealed, and the reader will find that she is a highly talented young woman interested in many aspects of life and with more than a touch of genius. Instead, she lives in a madhouse, hopelessly insane, and a few minutes after writing a story, she will turn her attention to the next one.

Genius is so akin to madness that it is not surprising to find a madman writing a masterpiece. The madman's mind is not controlled by the same restraints that govern the sane man's.

CALIFORNIANS DEFEATED IN SEMI-FINALS

By HERBERT RIED

Universal Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, CHURCHILL CLUB, CHEST-NUT HILL, Mass., Aug. 27.—Vincent Richards and R. Norris Williams II breathed through the Kinsey brothers from California here this afternoon in straight sets, defeating the National doubles title holders and bringing the American Davis cup prospects up for the great final that is expected tomorrow between them and the British Australian pair, the Kisner and Hawkes. The scores were 6-1, 8-6, 6-2, and fairly resented the difference between the Eastern and Western stars. Save for occasional brilliant shots on both sides, but especially by Richards, and Williams, the match had little dramatic interest for the Kinseys, both Howard and Bob, made many errors, and much of the time played really soft tennis.

EASTERNERS TRYOUT

The Easterners, it appeared, were mainly interested on working out their problems in generalship and in this respect they always had the peace for pace. The fundamental match, despite grave errors in striking by both men, but especially by Richards, was directly responsible for the loss of at least three games that could have been won with ease. Richards, but he made up for the several crafty cross-court strokes.

In the general scheme of the Richards-Williams combination, Vincent is supposed to be the safety man, working out the openings and withdrawing the allows for Dick Williams, sharp cross-court cut, forehand, backhand, but he was no safety man today. He made up for this by doing some smashing volleying of his own, but there were times when he lost his famous judgment of length down the alleys entirely.

KINSEYS OUTFITTED

However, the Kinseys were also even to nets and outs, and they could not play the numerous constantly confused shots that both Richards and Williams kept constantly putting at their feet. It was a tactical sort of play, especially so in the latter part of the match, as the Easterners did not seem to be really exerting themselves.
It was a surprise, but it was a surprise that the Olympic champion was constantly ahead of his stroke, something that Robert's service constantly invited.

FACE SLACKENS

The Kinsey appeared to have slowed down and they showed no pace at any time, although they are not particularly in this respect they always had the peace for pace. The fundamental

The woman who entertains well—

THERE'S something indescribably fine about the woman who entertains well. From the cheery appearance of her home to the service she so deft-ly affords — everything is so natural yet—so charmingly different.

Such splendid hostesses, once very rare and belonging only to the idle classes, are now to be found everywhere. They grace homes in every walk of life—making them happier though the many friends they attract.

Advertisements keep these women ahead of the commonplace. Advertisements tell of the newest and most delightful things. Advertisements announce new customs and practices. They tell what the world approves as correct.

The woman who entertains well must read the advertisements. Not only to keep pace with progress — but to learn how to do so on a limited purse. For advertisements are more than harbingerers of style—they are announcements of economies that may be practiced safely.

A Magic Place By The Sea

Teut House at Asilomar and Typical Pastimes

A NEW YORK motorist starting for his vacation westward was asked why he crossed the continent for a place at which to spend his vacation. "Well, you see my wife and I have the Asilomar habit. We met there in our college days."

A magic place by the sea is Asilomar! A sort of three-in-one spot that draws all types of people and vacationists from all parts of the country. There are play days, play boys, play girls and a rolling stretch by the sea on which to play frolic or rest. Motorists with cars family laden who come for the night enroute, continue on to stay as long as their travelling schedule will allow. There are people who come from many states to hear the questions of the day discussed by speakers from all parts of the world.

There are young girls in their early teens who once or twice a summer come five hundred strong as one big house party of the Girl Reserves. They come to do all the things girls like to do, to chase and to run, to hold mid-night feasts and frolics.
Asilomar even has frequent weddings of its own. Hardly a month goes by that someone does not come to be married in the Great Window of the Chapel. The back of the platform is a vast expanse of glass through which the open sea is seen.

Twisted gnarled cypress centuries old, are silhouetted against it.
What is Asilomar, this place of many uses? Asilomar translated means "retreat by the sea." It is located in the beauty-famous Monterey peninsula jutting out into the Pacific from the California shore.
It is several hours down from San Francisco. It has its own postoffice, and railway station named after it.
Surrounding a rustic and picturesque Lodge, Asilomar is built on the cottage system with twenty-four buildings widely scattered in its isolated cypress and pine woodlands. It is open the year round for vacation to anyone seeking rest and relaxation in one of the most invigorating climates in the world.

Conferences of college men and girls from the colleges and universities of the Pacific Coast and the far west are yearly held there. Speakers from Europe and the Orient journey to Asilomar to present their points of view. In between there are warm and heated discussions on the flapper and the so-called flapperism, the responsibility of parents to keep pace with the modern youth of today. And there's the sex question! Love affairs on the campus and the public criticism of the "petting" parties. Oh, there are views aplenty at Asilomar! It is not only the air that is stimulating.
Asilomar is owned and managed by the National Board of the Young Women's Christian Association and is open to the general public without restrictions the year around.

KEYS' WINNING STREAK CRACKS

FIREMEN ARE FAR TOO GOOD FOR RICHMOND

Alibies Come From All Quarters; Loss Credited to Errors And Walks

CITY-WIDE BOAST SMASHED

Derelicts Now Think Keys Must Come Through With Game Or Quit

Boasting that a change of managers would make them invincible, the Richmond Keys went out and won two games.

The boast was busted wide open yesterday morning at First street, with every indication that Manager Purman wasn't any better off than Manager Brown.

The Oakland Firemen were the busters. Slapping everything that the much touted Mr. Skinny Nemeth chose to offer, they left Richmond with a 10 to 9 victory over their belts.

ALIBIES FLY

Alibies were rife locally. Werman split his finger, a substitute center fielder, green at the game muffed a fly that let two runs in, and the pitcher walked two men, were some of the explanations offered. Nevertheless, the Keys lost the third game of their proposed everlasting winning streak.

The other day the newly formed Derelicts hurled a challenge for a game at the head of the Keys. Booking agent Don O'Loan immediately informed the officials of the Derelicts to go out and get a reputation.

At the present writing it appears as the Keys themselves need a rep. They declare themselves the champions of Richmond by virtue of their receipt win over the Firemen. Now a bush outfit comes from a neighboring town and swamps them.

DERELICTS HOPE

Meanwhile the Derelicts are holding the sack in the fond hope that the Keys will get next to themselves and hop in. Said Derelicts are confident of their ability to snag the Perman hosts.

The second Derelict team and the second Key team have arranged a game for next Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock at First street. This was stipulated in the negotiations for the Big Key game.

Manager Hannon and Captain Gardberry of the Derelicts decided to throw in their second string against the little Keys so that some semblance of an even chance would be had by the Keys.

DIRECTORIES WOULD MAKE 68-MILE PILE OF PAPER

The telephone directories published by the Illinois Bell Telephone company in Chicago alone during 1924 used 3,823,004 pounds of paper. If these directories were piled one on top of another, they would reach a height of more than three times the combined altitudes of Mt. Everest, Mt. Shasta, Mt. McKinley, Pike's Peak, Mt. Hood and King's Peak, or about 68 miles. If the books were placed end to end they would reach from Chicago to a point near St. Louis.

EVKO LEAVES CITY WEeping BITTER TEARS

"Good bye, San Francisco! You're no place for an innocent young wrestler!" And with these words wrung from the very depths of his soul John Evko, giant mat boishhevik who recently started the local wrestling game with his charges, waved farewell to San Francisco from the platform of his Chicago bound train yesterday afternoon.

Soft music professor!

A sad smile was playing about Evko's lips as he spoke the farewell. And in the smile there was bitterness. The foiled bitterness of the young dreamer who finds that the world has a headlock on him.

No disillusioned movie aspirant ever left Hollywood as Evko the wrestler left San Francisco. Though he is a strong man—a Jugo Slav wrestling champion has to be strong—Evko couldn't fight back the tears that seemed to mist his eyes as he turned away from the City of the Golden Gate.

CHANNEL WINS ANOTHER POINT

Dover, Eng., Aug. 23.—Setsu Nishimura, Japanese long-distance swimmer, abandoned his attempt to swim the English Channel today after being in the water only two hours five minutes.

Nishimura, said to be the champion long distance swimmer of Japan has attracted attention in England since his arrival there in June by the unusual diet he has followed in training for his attempt to swim the English channel. He ate only vegetables and eggs, instead of the usual heavy heat-producing foods favored by most Channel swimmers.

BOULOGNE, France, Aug. 28.—Gertrude Ederle unsuccessful in her first attempt to swim the English Channel. She fixed September 3 as the limit of her stay here waiting for fair weather and favorable tides for another attempt. She hopes to get away next Monday or Tuesday but the continued roughness of the sea is discouraging.

Lillian Harrison, Argentine star, has decided to wait until September 15, feeling she will have an opportunity by that date.

WASHINGTON FALTERS AS END OF SEASON DRAWS NEAR

PITCHING STAFF OF THE HARRISITES BADLY BATTERED; ATHLETICS GRADUALLY CRAWL UP ON LAST YEAR'S CHAMPIONS

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—Washington today is but one percentage point in front of the Philadelphia Athletics. The peerless Walter Johnson was summoned yesterday to steady his faltering teammates in their struggle for a second championship, but lost 5 to 0 to the Browns.

The Washington pitching staff has been badly battered by the St. Louis sluggers and Johnson was recalled from a brief rest at his home in Kansas to take the mound.

A day's rest before tackling the Detroit Tigers kept the Philadelphia Athletics' percentage position unchanged "bullish" Joe Bush, the stormy petrel of the American league, held the Senators to one hit. Johnson made that hit.

The standing:

Washington	76	45	.629
Philadelphia	74	44	.627

The already formidable lead of the Pirates in their quest for first National League pennant since 1909, became almost insurmountable today. They took a 1 to 0 decision over Boston yesterday behind Vic Aldridge's four-hit pitching exhibition, while the New York Giants were falling a single run short in a ninth inning rally against Cincinnati. The Reds won, 3 to 2, putting the Pirates 6 1-2 games in front of New York.

The standing:

Pittsburgh	73	46	.613
New York	70	56	.550

Everything Now Satisfactory In Southern League

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—The black cloud of an impending baseball scandal, hovering over the Southern Association, has been officially dispelled. So everything's lovely again and everybody's satisfied.

"Nothing to it," was the finding of Kenesaw M. Landis, baseball commissioner, after an investigation of charges in the Nashville (Tenn.) Banner that Players Eichrodt and Roy of Nashville were to be switched to New Orleans via the Cleveland Americans, which hold their contracts, to aid the Pelicans in winning the Southern Association gonfalon.

Blaine was attached only to Manager Hamilton of Nashville for encouraging Ralph McGill, who wrote the story to publish it. If Hamilton had given McGill the facts they would have completely exonerated Eichrodt and New Orleans of any suspicion, and there would have been no suggestion of any Southern Association scandal," the commissioner found.

McGill was pleased at the result

BIG C MEN AT UNIVERSITY WILL SEEK UNIFORM MEDAL SYSTEM

The reason the graduate manager's office of the University of California requested "Big C" men to purchase gold medals to wear at future gridiron contests if they would be admitted free, was that confusion would thus be avoided, declares "Curly" Cortlyon, graduate manager of the Berkeley institution.

"Most of the members of the 'Big C' about the bay region have these medals already," says Cortlyon in one breath and then in another: "Too many of the 'Big C' boys are showing up at the games with little gold rackets, track shoes, football watchfobs and what not with the 'Big C' sign on them and causing confusion."

MUCH CONFUSION

And Cortlyon goes on to say that this confusion has to be eliminated. That's why the new medals were struck off and only the actual jewelers' price is being asked for them.

Car Owners Will Have To Tell Truck Use

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 28.—Owners of small cars equipped with "box backs" will be required to submit an affidavit covering the uses to which the vehicle is put to secure its registration under the regular automobile license fee, Will H. Marsh, chief of the division of motor vehicles, announced today.

Owners of such vehicles were relieved from payment of the higher commercial fee by an amendment to the law, recently effective, which provided that "box back" cars used only incidentally or occasionally for commercial purposes could be registered on the regular $3.00 fee. An affidavit will be necessary, Marsh said, to prevent persons using such cars entirely for the transportation of property from taking advantage of the new act.

BOBBY JONES IS PESSIMISTIC OVER CHANCES

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Aug. 28.—Bobby Jones, here to defend his title of national amateur golf champion at Oakmont next Monday, isn't at all optimistic that he will retain the laurels won at Merion last year. Pitted against the champion are some of the country's greatest amateurs, all eager to knock the Atlanta star off his pedestal.

"One can never tell what is going to happen in a golf match—there are at least a dozen in this tournament who have a chance to beat me," Jones said. "There is no such thing as a golf championship monopoly."

"Golf is not like baseball. In a golf championship you have only one tournament; in baseball they play 154 games. If there were 100 golf matches to determine the champion, it might be possible for a champion to hold a title longer."

"I have made a study of golf. I believe a player can only be at the top of his game for about four days—after that he declines and it takes two weeks to reach the crest again."

"Don't let anyone tell you playing in a championship match is not nerve-racking. When Dave Herron beat me back in 1919 I lost 20 pounds, 1 lost 12 pounds at Worcester last June. I am heavier now, but I will not be much overweight when this championship is over."

"This medal is not new," he declares. "The University of Pennsylvania has a similar system. The 'Big P' men of that institution wear lapel buttons that have been issued to them."

"We want to get things uniform at Berkeley."

BUT THE BOYS.

However, some of the stars of former years were roiled at the recent mandate from the university. They were given medals supposedly designated for recognition at the gates for all contests except the big game, and now they have to get new medals.

"Maybe next year we'll have to buy ribbons to pin in our hair," commented one ex-warrior of the Golden Bears. "However, if they keep changing them we'll get up a nice collection."

TITLE FIGHT ROUNDS WERE CUT, CLAIM

Fitzgerald Returns His Referee License After Being Summarily Ousted

COMMISSION IS PROBING

Licensed Timekeeper Set to Check Time Declares Most Rounds Were Shortened

New Haven, Conn., Aug. 28.—Sports followers here were busy today discussing the Kaplan-Herman fight of last night and some of the incidents which followed it, including the resignation of David Fitzgerald of this city as a licensed referee of boxing and the claims that many of the rounds went less than the required three minutes.

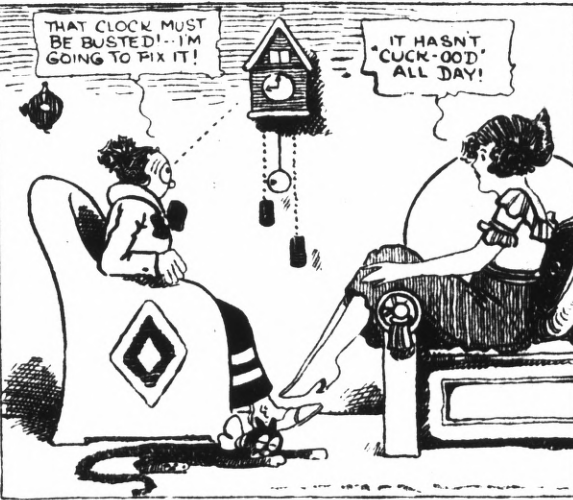

Twice during the bout Herman's manager walked around the edge of the ring to protest that the time of the rounds was being clipped many seconds. Fitzgerald who is one of the best known sport followers and former boxing and wrestling official in the state today said that he returned his license as a referee to State Commissioner Thomas E. Donohue last night as a protest against the use in the Kaplan-Herman bout of Jack Sheehan of Boston, when he had understood up till 11 o'clock that he (Fitzgerald) would be the referee.

FITZGERALD ADVERSE

Fitzgerald says that if he had refereed the bout he would have given the decision to Herman as in his opinion the latter took a majority of the rounds. He said that after the contest McMahon, Kaplan's manager, told him that Kaplan was not in the best of condition.

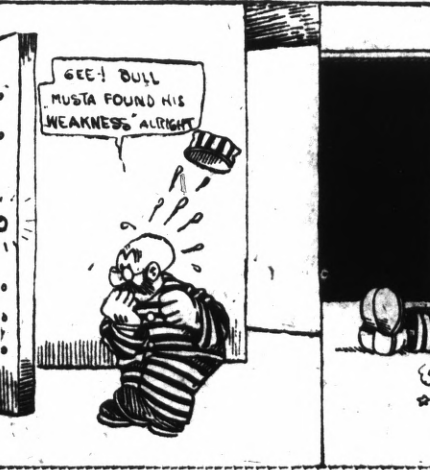

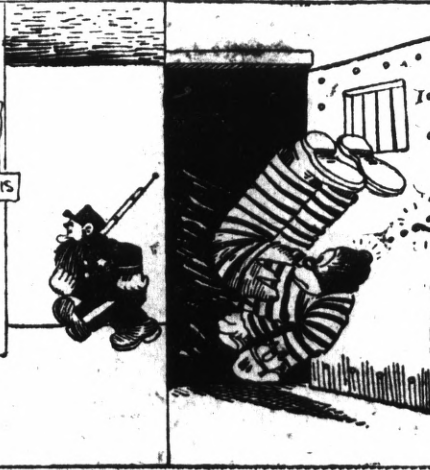

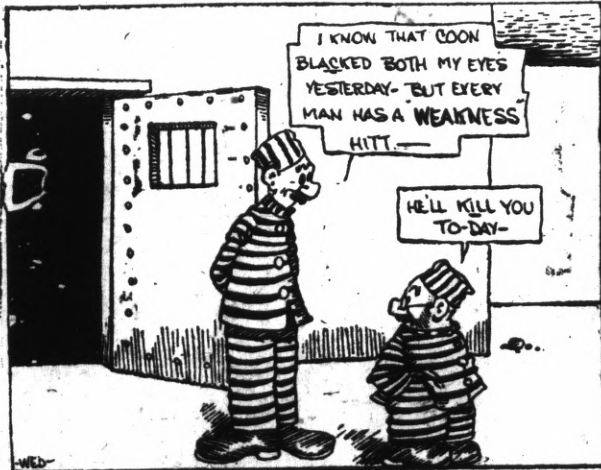

James Cavallaro of this city, a licensed timekeeper, who was at the ringside last night, but who was not the official timekeeper said today that after Herman's manager had made his first protest against "short rounds" State Commissioner Donohue sent him to the other side of the ring to check up on time and that the watch showed that some rounds were eight and ten second short and one round was 33 seconds short.

INSURANCE STABILITY PREVENTS DISASTER

Former President H. A. Smith of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, in commenting on the 1924 fire loss of $548,000,000, said:

"That this enormous destruction causes no ripple on the commercial sea, speaks well for the stability of stock fire insurance, but such a waste if unchecked, nevertheless threatens our economic life. "If business men in every community would take up the fire waste problem and apply practical business methods to its solution, this country in another twelve months would see a material reduction in this needless economic loss which continues to be a heavy drain on our national wealth."

Dealing with taxation and legislation, Mr. Smith attributed the large number of bills introduced at every legislative session, in part, to the tendency toward government by bureau, which he regards as highly dangerous.

"Of late years," he said, "the people seem to be leaning more and more heavily upon a paternal government, but the insidious encroachment of government upon private business is bound to undermine our prosperity and bring disaster. 'The hand of government in business is the touch of death.' If we would prevent it we must so conduct our affairs that the people who are the government will not feel interference is necessary."

OIL FOR TOMORROW

A reassuring report as to supply of petroleum in the United States has been prepared by 11 directors of the American Petroleum Institute. It was made after countrywide survey by many operators and by experts and scientists and embraces estimates of future supply of and demand for petroleum. It refutes the idea that there is imminent danger of exhaustion of petroleum reserves of the United States.

It estimates petroleum recoverable by present methods of flowing and pumping from existing wells and acreage thus proved, to be 5,300,000,000 barrels, and that after pumping and flowing cease there will remain in area now producing and proved 26,000,000,000 barrels of oil, a considerable portion of which can be recovered by improved and known processes.

INSURANCE AGAINST FOREIGN MONOPOLY

A number of new beet sugar factories have been built this year. They will help make us independent of the rest of the world in regard to our sugar supply.

What happened in the coffee and the rubber trade emphasizes the advantage of having one's own supply of vital necessities. Coffee prices have receded and rubber has dropped from its high point, but it was only by our going without, and not by our developing a new supply overnight. But for sugar there is no substitute, and it is hard to do without. The one safe plan is to encourage the American sugar industry and encourage American farmers to raise sugar beets.

The tariff differential doesn't "rob" the nation; it is merely good insurance against foreign monopoly of an American necessity.

A recent report made public by the secretary of state of Iowa shows that there is an auto in that community for every four persons—too bad that this country is in such poor shape.

The Mannish Mode Calls For Glen-urquhart Plaids and Rough Tweeds.

TO say that a certain fabric is the sort used for men's suits or coats has ever been to recommend its durability. So the expert saleswoman assures her customer that a certain "real men's suiting"—tweed serge or flannel—and the customer feels that she is buying a garment that will be durable at least.

Just now there is additional reason why women like to hear that this make a perfectly flat pair of trousers was certainly too staid to make a skirt five yards round with gathered fullness at the belt line. But now women's skirts are even scantier than men's trousers and they call for material just as substantial.

When a woman wears mannish clothes she must follow the custom of men and look to the young men of the London royal family for advice and precedence. No smartly dressed American woman would think of taking the Queen of England or Princess Mary or the Duchess of York as a glass of fashion. All three of them dress well enough, but it is not part of their role in the world to set the fashion. It is quite a different matter with the men of their family. Just as Paris still sets the fashion for women, so, nothing daunted, the young princess of England still set the fashions for men—and for the women who follow the mannish mode.

So it really is of some moment that the male members of the royal family are at present "especially partial to unfinished worsteds, in Glen-urquhart patterns." Tweeds we are told, are still worn for country and sports, but for the informal business suit these smoother materials are chosen.

Here is something else that you might bear in mind in contemplating a really mannish suit for autumn. The Prince of Wales and other well-dressed young men of England make no effort to wear coats and breeches or trousers that go together, as our American men do. They wear a tweed coat of one shade with breeches of smoother material in lighter shade. This trick has had its effect in Paris, where one of the smartest of the women's tailors has been making suits of jackets and skirts in contrasting materials.

material from which their coats or suits are made is truly manly. For mannish fashions for women are still in high favor and young women feel, though they may not formulate their feeling, that the appeal all the more charming in soft, gleaming evening dress if they appear on the street or at their sport in really mannish attire.

Once men's suitings were really not very well adapted to the making of women's suits and coats. The tweed or serge that would be right to

LITTLE THINGS TO SHOP FOR

White patent leather handbags are decidedly smart to wear with the white summer costume. Some of these bags are all white, some have pipings of green, red or purple.

Five bracelets of tiny beads, each strand a different color, but all worn together like one bracelet, are one of the small things that add variety to the vacation wardrobe.

Figured raincoats are new and smart. The figure, in color, and of flowers, is overlaid with a dark color so that the effect is that of flowered cretonne veiled with gray or brown.

COFFEE ROLL

Make a dough of three cups of flour, sifted with one teaspoon each of salt and ground mace, and one-half cup of sugar. Add one cup of milk, in which one compressed yeast cake has been blended, and work in one-half cup of softened butter. Knead, let rise in a warm place, roll out to one-fourth inch thick, cut into long strips, and twist these around the outside of a well-greased pan, cylindrical in form, joining the edges. Let rise again; bake in a moderate oven, and when nearly done brush over with sugar and water and sprinkle the top with fine-chopped almonds, mixed with dry sugar and cinnamon.

SYNOPSIS

Caroline Dale was walking home in the afternoon when she saw a dog dragging a cart in which rode little Bob Foster, race upon the railroad tracks after a cat. The cart wheels became fastened in the rails just as a freight engine bore down upon the improvised vehicle and its occupant. Caroline and Jim, Bob's father, rushed toward the youngster. They would have been too late to save him but danger passed when the engine reversed to a switch. In his gratification Jim hugs the girl.

"I had just stopped into the cigar store for a moment, thinking the youngster would be safe enough outside—but you can never tell. We were on the way down to meet you, Caroline."

Caroline looked surprised, and Jim smilingly enlightened her. "You see, today is Bobby's birthday and we're going to have a party. Bob will be home in time for it, and I want you to come," he said with a personal intonation that Caroline did not notice in her glad interest to be able to do something for Bobby. She said enthusiastically:

"Of course, I'll come—and I'll bake a cake if you want me to, Jim!" Jim and Bobby were equally delighted with this offer.

"Lordy, that will be wonderful," enthused Jim. "Bob went out very early this morning on a special call—"

Caroline's face brightened perceptibly at this intelligence, but unnoticed by Jim, who went on,

"—but I had penned a note for him before I turned in, telling him to get home as early as he could and to bring his best girl."

Caroline was about to say, "I suppose Bob will ask me as soon as he gets home," but a sudden and warning instinct that tightened around her heart like a glacial hand caused the words to be stillborn, and a moment later she heard,

"Say, what do you know about that sly old rogue? Jim was saying, in a voice that sounded small and far off to Caroline's ears, 'Held out on us, and he must have known this girl for a long time, too—for they're on very familiar terms. I saw him holding her in his arms and kissing her, out on the Eagle Pass siding when I passed him the other night.'"

Jim stopped short in his grinning description to Caroline of what he thought a lovers' tryst, and quick concern filled his voice as he looked into Caroline's face.

"Why, what's the matter—you've grown pale? Are you ill?"

Jim took hold of Caroline's arm, to steady her. She had closed her eyes, and was swaying a little, while the torn cards of her romance rained down about her ears.

"Just the reaction—of Bobby's danger—I guess. It's nothing," she said in a very low, very tired voice.

CHAPTER VIII

All that day Bob Wilson wrestled with spectres while his eyes and hands mechanically guided his great engine through the irregular pattern of a workday freight run. He had been glad that morning when the emergency call, routing him out of bed at four o'clock, made it impossible for him to meet Caroline in the accustomed way for in his as yet undetermined and unsolidified mental state he would have been at a loss for words although he desired

Fairbanks Film Is Adventure And Romance Story

One of the first questions asked when a motion picture star announces a new story is this:

"Is it an original or from a book?"

In the case of Douglas Fairbanks, who has done "Don Q. Son of Zorro," his next United Artists Corporation release and which comes to the California theatre for three days, starting next Monday, the answer is "Yes and no."

The story is based on the novel, "Don Q's Love Story," a rip-roaring adventure romance by K. and Hesketh Pritchard, and is directed by Donald Crisp. However, in being reduced to scenario form by Jack Cunningham the story has become so Fairbanksian as to be almost an original.

"Don Q. Son of Zorro," says Doug, "is a romantic melodrama. It not only carries forward the adventures of Zorro, but also those of Don Q. his son. In fact, it is the son who is featured in this tale. We go from California of the middle nineteenth century to Andalusia, Spain, where most of the action transpires."

In this new offering Doug plays a dual role. He is the dashing Zorro grown older, but still a sword-slashing demon, and also Don Q, the son who inherits all of the father's courage, and charming ingenuity.

Is Every Day A Backache Day?

Richmond Folks Have Found the Cause and Corrected It.

Is your back lame and aching? Are you tortured with sharp, rheumatic pains, miserable with headaches, dizzy spells and kidney irregularities? No wonder, then, you feel worn-out and discouraged. But have you given any thought to your kidneys? You should! Weak kidneys cause just such troubles. Don't risk neglect! Use Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys.

Here's a Richmond case: Mrs. R. Doolittle, 1415 Nevin Ave., says: "DOAN'S PILLS are the best remedy I have ever used and always helped me. If I took cold it always affected my kidneys. I had backaches that kept me miserable and was feeling tired and dull and had no energy. My kidneys didn't act right. Doan's Pills always rid me of such attacks and put my kidneys in good order."

Mrs. Doolittle is only one of many Richmond people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for DOAN'S PILLS, the same that Mrs. Doolittle had—the remedy backed by home testimony, 60 cents at all dealers. PLACING GREAT SEAL OF BABY STATE IN SKYLIGHT OF HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES CHAMBER AT CAPITOL

HIGHWAY CHIEF URGES STRONG SUPPORT OF FEDERAL AID FUND

Eastern politics, plus a misconception of the purpose back of federal aid, may imperil the present highway policy of the national government. There is every indication that the crucial test will come at the next session of Congress. The West must be united if federal aid for road construction is to be continued.

This opinion is shared generally by western highway builders who have been in close touch with the situation. The time to sound the alarm is now. We must be up and doing or we will lose the funds without which highway construction cannot be continued in many sections west of the Rocky Mountains.

ACADEMIC DISCUSSIONS.
The West is not concerned with academic discussions of state's rights indulged in by eastern politicians; it will continue to demand federal aid in the construction of highways as an income to which it is entitled. These funds are asked of the federal government because it owns millions upon millions of acres in western states—mineral lands, national forests, Indian lands, national parks—which are not taxable, from which no revenue comes to the states, but across which they are expected to construct splendid highways for the accommodation and pleasure of eastern tourists, coming westward in ever increasing numbers.

COMMITTEE HEARING.
The public lands committee of the United States Senate is about to conduct a series of hearings to inquire into the public land policy of the national government. Officials of western states should not fail to call the highway situation to the attention of the committee. The public domain, which in several western states is considerably

"For Sale" Gives Social Story Of Ambitions

Telling the story of an American society girl who was virtually offered for sale to the highest bidder that her parents might continue to keep up their social pretenses, "For Sale," the first National production which opened last night at the Richmond theatre for a two days' engagement is without doubt one of the most impressive and colorful pictures of society life that have ever been shown in this city.

The picture unfolds the story of Eleanor Bates, a beautiful society girl who agrees to be sold in marriage to save her parents from social oblivion.

The part of Eleanor Bates is ideally suited to Claire Windsor who handles her difficult role in a mastery manner. Robert Ellis is equally well-cast and gives an excellent performance especially in the Paris cafe scenes.

Adolphe Menjou again is seen in a role, at which he is right at home that of a "sympathetic heavy" whose wealth puts him in the running for the hand of the heroine. Other prominent players in the cast of this first National picture are Tully Marshall, Vera Reynolds, Jack Patrick, Phillips Smalley, Christine Mayo and Frank Elliott.

Other features on the same program include the eighth thrilling chapter of "Days of '49," featuring Neva Gerber and Edmund Cobb; "Have Mercy," a comedy scream.

Sartorial Treat Is Attraction At The California

A sartorial treat as well as de luxe entertainment is in store for those native film enthusiasts who visit the California Theatre today. "In the Name of Love," the main feature attraction, is a colorful romance with modern France for its picturesque locale. Howard Higgin directed it for Paramount, and the sterling cast includes Ricardo Cortez, Greta Nissen, Wallace Beery and Raymond Hatton.

That "clothes make the man" is exemplified by Cortez who wears a glittering military uniform with gold braid, medals, epaulettes, and cape for his impersonation of the "Prince of Como." Beery and Hatton as a bogus count and decadent marquis, respectively, are veritable fashion plates.

On the feminine side, Miss Nissen's blonde loveliness is accentuated by fashionable Paris gowns, fashioned especially for her by Travis Banton, famous styles creator. Lillian Leighton, as the newly rich mother of Greta Nissen, and Edythe Chapman, as Cortez' mother, also wear many beautiful gowns, although the raiment of the former is exaggerated in keeping with the type of her role.

All in all, "In the Name of Love" will satisfy the average picture-goer because it appeals to the eye, the heart and the mind!

HAND KNIT BROTHER AND SISTER SUITS

COMFORT AND HEALTH STYLES FOR MASTER TOM AND MISTRESS MARY

By Eula McClary

"STYLES for children should embody two principals, comfort and health," agree the pediatricists of distinction. "Simplicity of line is the note of Junior Styles," decrees Dame Fashion. The hand knit Brother and Sister suits, which are the latest vogue in children's styles, answer the requirements of the Medical profession as well as those of exacting Dame Fashion. From the medical standpoint, the two piece hand knit suit meets the standard of comfort. It does not pinch or bind the wearer. Also, these suits are health garments for the air circulates through the soft yarn, permitting the body to breathe and the perspiration to be absorbed without danger of colds. From the standpoint of sanitation and cleanliness, the knitted garment is good for it launders easily and well. It takes but a few balls of yarn to fashion by hand one of the delightful suits shown in the sketch. The suits are plain knit. The only attempt at trim is the ribbed yoke, cuffs, and border of the blouse. To be ultra smart the socks should match the suits in color, stitch and edging.

Woodmen Ready For Big Class Of Initiates

Twenty candidates will be taken into Richmond Camp No. 11622, Modern Woodmen of America when the initiatory degree is exemplified on next Friday night in Redmen's hall, according to R. J. Abof, district deputy.

Those to be initiated are Allen C. Reynolds, Lawrence Simms, J. B. Maxwell, S. R. McDonald, J. W. Bumgarner, W. P. Draffney, J. S. Nagy, F. L. Schackelford, Norma Daigle, Lewis Jorgensen, Edmund Gardell, Winifred Mills, Fred Durgan, J. W. Fuller, Ben E. Dixon, George Handcock, Harold Graham, Raymond Rich, George Misen.

Abof, who is here for the purpose of conducting a membership drive, turned eight new applications into the meeting last night.

At the initiation next week, Dr. E. T. Bykes of Oakland, who is state lecturer will be present. The drill team of Richmond will do the work. Al English, venerable consul presided over last night's meeting.

Pinned Under Car But Escape Unhurt

MARTINEZ, Aug. 28.—Two people a man and woman escaped death by a miracle shortly after noon Friday when their Oldsmobile touring car in which they were driving to Martinez overturned at a turn on the Pleasant Hill road at the foot of the Holiday hill.

The occupants of the wrecked car were pinned in the wreckage and the timely arrival of R. O. Whitman, local expressman, was their salvation. Whitman and his assistant lifted the overturned car to permit the victims to crawl to safety and then brought them on to Martinez. The woman received painful cuts and bruises but was otherwise unhurt.

New Ways To Serve Tuna Fish

WHAT do you know about tuna fish except that it comes in cans and makes an excellent salad?

Do you know that in flavor it is first cousin to the tender spring chicken, and is known as "the chicken of the sea," and can be added to chicken salad, so that even you would never recognize it if you had not mixed it with your own hands? Try this sometime when you are serving chicken salad and extra guests arrive.

The flavor of tuna fish by itself when used for a salad or creamed with evaporated milk and baked with bread crumbs is delicate and delicious. In serving it as a salad it should be heaped on lettuce leaves with a little salad dressing, garnished with sliced onion, a sprig of parsley and a few green peppers, or with pickles and green pepper or olives.

Social Evening Follows Usual Business Session

Cards and a general social evening with refreshments followed the meeting of Admiral Dewey auxiliary to the United Spanish War Veterans in Memorial hall last night. The social end of the evening was in charge of the entire membership.

The lodge session was devoted to regular business and was presided over by Mrs. Elizabeth Jungstrom, commander.

Rotarians Plan Inter-City Meet

Thermometers, from their earliest beginning to the present time, their uses and values, were discussed by Samuel Worick before the Richmond Rotary club yesterday. Otto Paulsen staged the program and added greatly to it with an intellectual menu that proved interesting from beginning to end.

It was announced that five Eastbay Rotary clubs, Hayward, Alameda, Oakland, Berkeley and Richmond, will hold an inter-city meet on September 25, in Richmond. A five minute talking contest will be held and a silver loving cup will go to the winner.

Birthday Club Is Entertained At Hansen Home

Members of the Birthday Club were entertained by Mrs. J. M. Hansen at her home in Nevin avenue, with Mrs. E. Bennett and Mrs. H. Shannon as guests of honor.

Mrs. A. McQuade will be hostess to the club at her home in San Francisco, September 17. Mrs. W. A. Gray will be honored at that time.

High School Has Gala Time When Dance Presides

Every member of Richmond High school's student body who could beg, borrow or steal a way, was at the dance last night—the first social event of the new year. The affair was given in the gymnasium in honor of the football men.

All yesterday afternoon committees were busy decorating the gym for the occasion, and due to their efforts "football" was the keynote of the setting from start to finish. The dance was arranged under the direction of Treva Myers, assisted by Ernest Barbieri, John Dalton, Marvin Clark, James Cryan, David Hutchinson, Harry Axelson, Wm. Milne, Charles Cecil Catherine Wood Mary Page, Grace Haigh, Mildred Barbikas, and all the commissioners.

CONVICTS HAVE LIBERTY

Of the total prison population in San Quentin and Folsom penitentiaries, 6577, 30 percent or 2004 are now on parole. State Parole Officer Ed. H. Whyte announced. During the last month sixty-four were paroled from San Quentin and nine from Folsom.

This is a good time of the year to remember that he who eats with flies may soon be not alive to eat at all.

at men as revealed by the slain woman's correspondence.

MANY THEORIES
Captain R. V. Shirley has worked with the questioners ever since the case broke, but has, like the others, unearthed nothing productive of a definite theory regarding the crime. There are as many theories as there are individuals working on the case, he said last night.

FURTHER FINDS
Officer H. A. Messenger of the Richmond force last evening reported that further search along the bayshore and in the tule pond had given up part of one of the woman's fingers and a switch she is believed to have worn.

SEARCH GOES ON
The search in the swamp and along the shore is still going on, with added forces seeking to develop some proof to substantiate one of the many "solutions" imagined for the case. The blanket found down the shore is not believed by Messenger to have anything to do with the case, any more than the bloody sheets found near Kozy Kove.

CALLS SCOTED
Telephone calls said to have been from a "Mrs. Gray" inquiring about Mrs. Loren and urging Mrs. Ferguson not to worry about her were scouted by the officers. Other telephone call clues also proved futile according to the prevailing opinion.

BODY IN BAY
Richmond police are inclined to believe the body of the murdered victim is in the bay. They believe that it may be found floating in some spot where the tide and wind may carry it after it rises. Whether the time required for a body to rise—seven to nine days—has elapsed depends on the time the killing was done.

QUIZZING CONTINUES
In the meantime the investigation is still going on. Every acquaintance of the murdered woman is being quizzed with the hope of revealing a new angle to the case. Deputy Sheriffs Joseph, Harrison and Smiley represent the county in the quiz, in addition to DeLoan.

NO ONE ELIMINATED
While no one has been directly implicated in the crime, no one has been eliminated from the enquiry. Lack of any recent correspondence to continue the threads of old letters handicaps the officers.

Mr. Stungy: "Are you the boot-black who shined my shoes last?"
Bootblack (disgustedly): "No, I have only been here a year."

Trusty Escapes San Francisco Jail—Found Out Months Later

MARTINEZ, Aug. 28.—Kept secret for two months, the fact has leaked out that Lawrence A. O'Brien, former vice-president and general manager of the First National Bank of Bay Point, escaped from County Jail No. 1 in the Hall of Justice, San Francisco, on June 29, where he had served six months of a ten months' term for embezzlement.

When news of the escape was learned it developed that O'Brien had been made a trusty in the jail and had simply dropped his broom, ducked around a corner and fled while sweeping in Dunbar alley, adjoining the Hall of Justice.

According to Sheriff Thomas Finn, O'Brien was traced to a house in Divisadero street, where he borrowed $5. a coat and hat and said he was going to Seattle.

Finn also stated that O'Brien was later traced to Seattle and that last week it was learned through the Department of Justice that federal officers in Seattle were on the fugitive's trail.

O'Brien was convicted by a jury in the court of Federal Judge M. Bourquin on January 30. Shortly after he entered jail he was made bookkeeper, but frequently complained of trouble with his eyes and was finally relieved of that duty, made a trusty and assigned to work sweeping the alley and court, adjoining the Hall of Justice.

Sheriff Finn declared he notified the Department of Justice, the United States Marshal's office and the police of the escape and was unaware that the incident was not generally known.

After the walkout, Finn said, fellow prisoners of O'Brien reported that he had expressed disgust at his plight and had frequently talked of suicide.

O'Brien and L. A. Crowell, former president of the Bay Point bank, were both named in a grand jury secret indictment charging embezzlement of $75,000 that came to light February 8, when it was learned that the true bill had been returned weeks previously and that the two men were being pursued through several Western States.

The two bank officers had left the institution before their alleged peculations were discovered. O'Brien had been secretly indicted in June, 1923, on a charge of embezzling $14,300, but was never taken into custody.

Both officials were accused of having looted the bank over a period of years. The alleged shortages were discovered after their disappearance and it was charged they had made fraudulent entries in the bank's books.

O'Brien was arrested in Seattle on May 8, 1924, and was brought back for trial. Both O'Brien and Crowell were tried for misappropriation of bank funds. Crowell was acquitted by a jury and O'Brien was released when Judge Bourquin instructed the jury to acquit him. O'Brien was later tried for embezzlement and convicted.

DE MOLAY PUTS ON HIGH POLISH

Richmond chapter of De Molay held a rehearsal in Richmond hall last night of the degree work to be put on in Pinole on Tuesday night, September 1. A class of candidates will be initiated at that time before the Pinole lodge of Masons.

All officers of the DeMolay of this city were in Richmond hall last night for the practice. The evening's work was under the charge of Mas-
